Victory rests with those who favor keeping the cows up, although the other side elected their candidate in the first ward—Piedmont Banner.

L. G. WOODSIDE.
There are more than 900 tracts of land on the delinquent tax book of Iron county for the year 1914; this, in addition to something like 2,000 of the Murdock-Crum tracts that are delinquent. The total amount of delinquent land tax in the county for the year totals $1552.28. The amount due as shown on the Consolidated tax book is $10,044.99. Probably never before, certainly not in more than thirty years, has there been such a large delinquency in Iron county.

The newly elected city council met and organized Monday evening and Mayor-elect J. L. Baldwin was inducted into office. There were four applicants for the office of City Clerk: Elmer Newman, T. P. Pigg, Herman L. Rieke and Mrs. Nannie Walker. The Aldermen cast two votes for Newman and two for Rieke. The Mayor cast the deciding vote for Newman, electing him. The Mayor appointed Antony Roehry as City Treasurer to succeed G. W. Marshall, the present incumbent.

Last week there came to me a token of good will and remembrance from my old time friend, Frank Scoville, Esq., fruit grower, Corona, California. The token was a box of fine navel oranges, and they came through in excellent condition—not one defective in the lot. The older residents of the Valley will remember Mr. Scoville as one of our community—a general favorite whose departure was regretted by us all. To him and his have ever since gone forth the best wishes of the legion calling him friend.

The Ladies' Social Club was entertained Tuesday of last week by Mrs. T. B. Pruitt. After regular business and discussion of some current events, the hostess presented each member with a piece of tissue paper with request that they make a hat. All were very intent on work assigned them, and, of course, artistic taste was displayed. It was decided that Mrs. Jolly's was most becoming and was awarded the prize. Mrs. Pruitt was assisted by her daughters, Misses Ruth and Alice, in serving delicious refreshments. Adjourned, all feeling that another delightful afternoon had been passed. Next meeting will be April 20, 1915.

On April 19, Judge E. M. Dearing will preside at Bloomfield. Judge Dearing has been called as special judge in several of the adjoining circuits and the Journal learns from various sources that the justice as administered by him and the dispatch in which he cares for the business of the court, has been as pleasing in those circuits to which he has been called as a special judge as it is in his own circuit. It is understood that Judge Dearing will be a candidate for another term as judge of this circuit. This news is welcomed by lawyers and laymen alike. It is reasonably certain that he will not have any opposition in the primary for renomination. This is right and proper, for he is in no way deservng of opposition and should have none—Wayne County Journal.

Among the most welcome news that has come to the ears of Madison county people for a long time is the announcement that the Catherine will start. Messrs. Sleeth and Washburn came down Monday and made the statement that operation would be resumed as soon as things could be gotten in shape. Messrs. Washburn, Lamont, Johnson and the Federal master mechanic were here yesterday. Mr. Washburn stated that pumps would be started at once and that he thought the water would be under control within a couple of weeks. At the same time a general cleaning-up will take place. It is likely that 150 to 200 men will be employed at the beginning. It is also thought that Messrs. Johnson, Lamont and others who were here before the last shutdown will be returned and this general hope is that such will be the case. In the meantime the spirits of our citizens will continue to rise.—Fricktown Democrat-News.

The Susanna Wesley Bible Class, of Fort Hill Church, met in social session at the Willard Hotel, the home of the teacher, A. L. Willard, on Friday night last. The attendance consisted of the members of the class, together with their husbands and a few invited guests. Those present were Mrs. Carrie Baldwin, Mrs. Nannie Walker, Mrs. Mamie Davis, Mrs. Ruth Robinson, Mrs. Clara Lischer, Mrs. Minerva Willard, Mrs. Augusta Favey, Mrs. Ada Tusi, Mrs. Josie Hawkins, Mrs. Ethel Hanson, Mrs. Lucetta Henry, Mrs. Lucy Radley, Mrs. Dora Curry, Mrs. Sarah Allen, Mrs. A. Centerville Outlook: "Last Saturday night or Sunday morning some miscreant set fire to and destroyed about 800 ties belonging to the Moss Tie Company, on their 'yard' near the mouth of Hyatt's creek, on Black River. As soon as Mr. Taylor, the local representative of the Moss company, was apprised of the deed he at once got in communication with parties at Poplar Bluff owning a pair of blood hounds and made arrangements for the dogs to be brought to Annapolis on No. 10, where he had a conveyance awaiting to take them to Black River. In the meantime Mr. Taylor had arranged with Sheriff Parks to accompany him. They arrived at Hyatt's creek school house at the break of day Tuesday morning. Mr. Plenk in charge of the dogs, soon joined them. After a couple of hours spent in the neighborhood they were forced to abandon the trail. The ground was so very dry and some forty hours elapsed before the dogs arrived, therefore, they were not able to carry out their plans. Mr. Plenk says he would have had no trouble in locating the guilty party had he been able to arrive a few hours sooner.

The dogs, he says, are able to follow a trail forty-eight hours old when the ground is in anything like a favorable condition. The Moss Tie people are more determined now than ever to put a stop to timber stealing and crimes like the above and have the hearty co-operation of all the better citizens of our county."

Fashionable Hats for Fashionable Folks—at THE STYLE SHOP.

What does Dyer owe Nall?
(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

Federal Judge Dyer bet a hat with his clerk, Nall, on the issue of an easement in Havana, His Honor taking the Johnson end of it. On the day thereof, as the bettors were returning from lunch, Nall concluded from the incomplete bulletins of the fight then in process that Willard was a sure loser, so he took His Honor into a hat store and bought him one of the new spring styles for $5. Subsequently learning that Willard had won, Nall claimed that His Honor owes him a hat and $5. He is still claiming it. For his part His Honor contends that he owes Nall only a hat.

It is a sporting proposition above the realm of mere law or propositions of Chitly and Blackstone and questions of general assumption, detinue, replevin, recovery upon wages, and all that legal and technical dry-rot. It transcends Federal jurisprudence and Federal jurisdiction entirely, we take it, and is a question of pure ethics for that supreme tribunal the people, our readers.

We propose a referendum, to be decided in this forum, and we invite our readers and communicators to favor us with their written opinions. What, if anything, does Judge Dyer owe Clerk Nall?
